METdance, founded in 1995, strives to educate, entertain, and inspire its audiences through a diverse curation of repertory that spans a full range of emotion, content, and collaboration. Based in Houston, TX, METdance's passionate performers and choreographers (Robert Battle, Camille A. Brown, Larry Keigwin) come from a range of cultural and ethnic backgrounds, and instill the company's work with a complete spectrum of emotionality and physicality. From comedy and humor to poignant and dramatic, from fierce athleticism to detailed minimalism, METdance is committed to presenting works that speak to every audience member regardless of their background, age, gender, or experience with dance.

METdance Artistic Director Marlana Doyle and the artists of METdance will lead classes in Ballet, Contemporary Jazz and Hip Hop, in addition to teaching excerpts from their diverse repertory, including pieces by Camille A. Brown and Katarzyna Skarpetowska. METdance classwork focuses on a wide range of elements including alignment, core stabilization, musicality, dynamism, and stamina. Repertory class work stresses movement detail and precision, partnering, spatial design/awareness, and working in an ensemble environment.

We hope you can join us for this amazing workshop!
